Program Manager, Founders' Office

About IHX:

IHX is an industry leading, first of its kind in India, digital healthcare data platform and exchange, infused with AI/ML capabilities delivering solutions to stakeholders in all segments of the healthcare sector. We enable healthcare service providers and aggregators to connect with insurance companies and TPAs. Our AI infused applications and APIs help hospitals, payers, diagnostic labs, pharmaceutical companies, digital intermediaries, and enable them to enhance their products and services by being better informed, agile, reliable, and competitive. We solve the most complex problems in Indian healthcare ecosystem: digitize the enormous amount of unstructured data and use AI to generate actionable insights and solve real world problems.

With more than 11,000 hospitals across 1,100 cities, and 23 insurance companies in our network, we are already the largest healthcare data exchange in India. 30% of India's cashless medical insurance claims are currently being processed by our state-of-the-art claims management application.

Join us today and be a part of the team driving digital revolution in Indian healthcare.

Our Mission:
