Our Mission

Our mission is to create employability via quality education. At Invact, we strive to deliver high-quality, socially-rich virtually immersive learning experiences to everyone, wherever they are, at an affordable price. Live the campus life from the comfort of your couch.

Our Story

Necessity is the mother of invention.

When the pandemic hit, unemployment became the biggest concern as several industries were forced to realign their workforce. By analyzing the survey results & research, we understood that the problem is large and requires a scalable platform solution. As current technology-driven solutions were not working we knew there had to be a better way. Online learning shouldn't be a lonely and siloed experience on a web page. It's time online learning gets its due. And deliver on the promise of quality education for all.

And thus Invact was born! We brought an immersive university-like platform where students will experience a virtual world merged with the real world. The metaversity is designed to facilitate the creation of communities and ecosystems over the open web.

Who we are

We want to be the change agents for the world! The founders are:

Position description:

This candidate will assist the Founders and will closely work with them on a day-to-day basis. The work will fall into the following three functional buckets:

1. Strategy and consulting: Advising and assisting Founders with special strategic projects as well as ongoing strategic thinking, goal-setting and delivery.
2. External liaising: Assisting the Founders in managing various external relationships and representations. This may also include representing the founders externally and being the face of the company, if needed. Successful candidate will need to take charge of the various loose ends, map out various relationships and build a cohesive plan on how to strategically leverage the external environment for the benefit of Invact Metaversity and its vision.
3. Organizational: Taking active part in and influencing strategic organizational issues, personally connecting with each team member to keep the team engaged and motivated and ensuring that the team as a whole works as a high-performance organization. This role requires very strong interpersonal skills to gel with a very young, dynamic and fast-paced team and a very high EQ to understand what is going well and what is not.

This role can become as big as you make it. As a Silicon Valley headquartered company, we provide significant empowerment and opportunities to grow one's career. We do not hesitate in entrusting responsibilities ahead of tenure for outstanding performers.

Qualifications:

- Start-up/entrepreneurial mindset with high degree of comfort with ambiguity. Need to be a curious, internally motivated self-starter.
- Outstanding senior management communication skills. Need to have really strong oral, written and presentation skills including ability to communicate very complex ideas in simple ways
- Problem-solving: Ability to think through issues and come up with solutions in a fast frugal manner
- Outstanding interpersonal skills and empathy
- Education: At least a Bachelor's degree
- Experience: 2 to 5 years

Please apply only if you meet all of the above qualifications. Only shortlisted candidates will be contacted.
