SCO Supreme Court Observer | A living archive of the Supreme Court of India

About Supreme Court Observer

Supreme Court Observer (SCO) reports on and makes sense of the Supreme Court of India. We track selected cases, access and share court submissions, produce daily reports of court proceedings, and analyse decisions in plain language. We seek to enable common citizens to develop an understanding of the role of the Court in Indian public life through contemporaneous reporting and by building a living archive of the Court's work.

About the Internship Programme

Our full-time in-person internship programme gives students the opportunity to get hands-on experience in legal research and journalism as well as conducting logistical and administrative tasks. The programme is designed to provide interns with opportunities for learning and developing their skills.

Currently, we are actively recruiting a Communications intern. Interns will work on creatively translating SCO's reportage into multiple digital formats for wider dissemination. The intern will work on managing SCO's social media presence, designing and scheduling social media posts, and working with the team to develop new communications strategies.

The duration of the internship is one month—and pending an internal performance-based review can be extended for another month. Interns will be working in-person at our Bangalore office. A performance-based stipend will be provided.

Eligibility

Final-year students interested in legal journalism pursuing a Bachelor's degree in any subject, or Master's students pursuing a degree in any subject. Strong written English, a flair for creative storytelling, and previous experience in Canva, Photoshop, or Social Media Marketing are desired.

How to Apply

Please write to admin@scobserver.in with a CV, a cover letter, one writing sample, and one sample of previous communications work. Our team will review your documents—particularly your samples—and get back to you with its decision.
