TBWA\INDIA

Job Title: Trainee Executive Assistant to the CEO\ Project Manager – CEO's Office

Team: CEO's Office

Reporting Manager: CEO

Location: Mumbai

No. of positions: 1

Compensation: 5 to 7 lakhs per annum, depending on Competencies & Qualification

The Role

This is a rare opportunity for you to gain valuable insights and exposure in areas of planning, decision-making and execution at the highest level of a corporate set up. The role is a preparatory ground for those who aspire to take on business leadership roles as a career goal.

Key Expectations

You will be responsible for providing comprehensive support to the CEO. This dynamic position requires the ability to anticipate needs, think critically, and offer solutions to problems with a high level of professionalism and confidentiality.

- Serve as the wingman for the CEO, processing and converting initial ideas into an actionable , better formed strategic notes.
- Responsible for communicating on his behalf, with key stakeholders including Executive Team, staff, and the Network.
- Be the Agency's Brand Manager. Managing Corporate Communication for the agency – internally and externally. This includes establishing an effective PR network.
- Ability to think strategically with an impeccable eye for details - project management and making things happen
- Providing strategic ideation on New Business & future plans. Excited and well versed on the new developments in – creativity, technology, media etc.
- Preparing impactful presentations aligned to strategic objectives.
- Displaying highest levels of drive, maturity, and discretion in all matters
- Maintaining strict confidentiality of information

The success of the role is directly correlated to the improvement in efficiency & effectiveness of the CEO's office!