About Climate Asia

Climate Asia's mission is to bridge the talent gap in the climate ecosystem in Asia. We do this through a platform to explore climate jobs, events, funding, news and thought leadership in the form of research, conferences and dialogue-building. www.climateasia.org

Role overview: The candidate must collaborate cross-functionally with teams developing, marketing, selling, and supporting product platforms. The candidate must be capable of managing one to four platforms. We're looking for a creative and driven product manager to oversee the multi-team development by understanding the organization's requirements, managing changes, removing roadblocks, and communicating broadly with the team. Passionate individuals who are driven, have the necessary skills, and seek long-term success are critical components we are looking for.

Responsibilities:

- Platform strategy and understanding of the big picture: The platform product manager will be responsible for setting the platform vision and strategy. S/he will build the platform roadmaps and will prioritize the building blocks that matter most to achieve the strategic goals and initiatives beyond the product in the platform.
- Managing platform and product launch: Managing the existing platforms and responsible for aligning with the current mission and vision.
- Catalysing co-creation and innovation at scale: He/she will oversee the creative process of proposing new ideas for products or innovative product enhancements. He or she will ensure that feedback and requests are incorporated into the planning and development of the platform.
- Responsible for user acquisition across platforms and ensuring active engagement across platforms by working closely with the marketing team.
