Given how little correlation some of it can have with the work, we will skip this part. However, we look forward to an honest and a brief conversation to kickstart.

Hiring Process:

Stage 1 - Assignment : We will be sharing a writing assignment with the applicant to test out the writing skills,information extraction prowess which has to be completed within 48 hours. In this assignment, we will be evaluating your ability to organise your thoughts, communicate effectively, and write in a professional tone alongside your information extraction skills, which involves the ability to read and analyse information and extract relevant details. To assess this skill, we will providing you with a set of context essays in the assignment

Stage 2 - Behavioural Interview : The second stage of the process would be a behavioural interview to assess the candidate's suitability for the role based on their past behaviour. The interviewer will be looking for evidence of specific skills, such as problem-solving, teamwork, leadership, communication, and adaptability.

Stage 3 - Case Study Interview : The case study interview is designed to simulate the type of work that an education consultant would do on a daily basis. The candidate will be presented with a hypothetical scenario or a real-world problem that they may encounter in their role. The candidate will then be asked to analyse the situation, identify the underlying issues, and propose a solution or a set of recommendations.
The interviewer will be assessing the candidate's ability to work through complex problems, interact effectively with clients, real-time writing skills and understanding of the problem.

Stage 4 - Fit Interview : The final interview round would be the culture fit round where the candidate’s shared values, motivation and interpersonal skills will be assessed to see if they are a good fit for the company’s culture and can grow and simultaneously provide growth to the company
