LG Ads Solutions (Alphonso Inc.)

[Campus Hiring 2022-23]

Associate Account Manager

? Who are We

We are LG Ads Solutions, formerly known as Alphonso Inc. We are about 10 years young. We are a startup. We are a global leader in connected TV and cross-screen advertising, helping brands find unduplicated reach at optimal frequency across the fragmented streaming TV landscape. With our massive TV audience data and Video AI, we connect brands with audiences across all screens. Whatever we do, we try to do it RIGHT, we try to do it BIG.

? Who are we looking for

We are always looking for smart minds energized to tackle some of the very complex challenges to push the envelope on scale and efficiency. We are expanding our Account Management team in India. We are looking for young graduates who are analytical thinkers, efficient communicators, and who can come up with tactical and strategic solutions for various businesses. An ideal person would be the one who is looking to kick start his or her career in a fast-paced, and deadline-driven environment. Someone who loves to work hard, always game to learn something new, gets excited when challenged with new problems, and has tons of fun solving them.

? What Is Account Management

Account Management is the core of our client's experience! Our Account Management team is a small and a growing group of qualified and experienced professionals from all around the globe. The team provides consultative solutions that maximize value and results for our clients' business, and growth for our company. Through strategic planning the team scales existing accounts and ensures seamless and continuous support/guidance that deliver beyond clients' expectations.

The Associate Account Managers oversees the development and implementation of the pre-sale campaign process while contributing to its strategic direction. This position includes responsibility of running daily Account Management tasks but is expected to go beyond with strategic planning and incremental opportunities.

? What will I do as an Associate Account Manager

- Provide strategic and proactive account support at the pre-sale stage, managing RFIs/RFPs (Request for Information / Request for Proposal) based on client objectives/KPIs (Key Performance Indicator) and LG Ad Solutions's product suite and capabilities
- Partner with Sales, Account Management, Operations, and Product to collaborate overall client strategy and help create client solutions
- Responsible for pre-sale communication and leading campaign kick-off, gathering assets, executing revisions, scheduling creative, initial UI setup, etc. to set up campaign for success
- Manage overall pre-sale account workflow and handoff to Account Manager, ensuring campaigns, reports, and projects are functioning properly
- Collaborate with internal teams to improve capabilities, tools, and processes and understand larger financial picture
- Build and Demonstrate a solid understanding of our client's business to assist the Account Manager with reporting, optimizations, and incremental ideas
- Maintain strong knowledge of products and technical capabilities and communicate in a client facing manner
- Educate clients and internal teams on best practices, provoking thoughtful future initiatives

? How will I be screened during campus recruitment

- A Pre-placement Talk (For you to screen us)
- A Written test - analytical aptitude and a writing ability test
- A Group discussion
- Up to 3 rounds of interviews
