Monks of Method's mission is to help professional men dress elegantly everyday with ease. With the casualization of workplaces, men can't hide in stuffy, old suits any more, and need to depend on ready-to-wear chinos, jeans, polos, oxford shirts and so on. This poses a few problems:

1. Fit. Ready-to-wear clothes are made in standard sizes and force men to compromise on fit, which is the number one concern for anyone.

2. Quality. The fast fashion movement has forced manufacturers to churn out knockout designs quickly by cutting corners.

3. Ethics. Fashion industry leads in creating wastage, polluting the environment and exploiting a low-wage workforce. Our customers so far had to look abroad to get the quality they yearned for.

We are bridging that gap at home with a new mass premium offering in Monks with no-compromise quality and care, once accessible only to luxury, married to a perfect, made-to-measure fit. Monk's approach is minimal, timeless, direct and authentic. We are technical, detail oriented and authoritative.

We are looking for an Assitant Marketing Manager, who will help in the seamless execution of marketing campaigns on all media and platforms.
