About Project Potential

We envision ending poverty sustainably and inclusively in India's 100 poorest districts. Our mission is to achieve this by equipping communities with the knowledge, skills, attitudes, networks, and resources they require to create the future they dream of.

Our current work around this goal is reflected in:

1. Work to nurture local youth leaders who can help drive change at the last mile
2. A desire to nurture an ecosystem of supportive partners who can bring in the required technical expertise to solve multiple problems
3. Our eArthshala campus which serves as a research and development space for big ideas related to rural India's sustainable development
