About Tummee:
Tummee.com started with the simple realization that yoga has the potential to nourish and transform individuals, and in turn, societies. Yoga teachers play a critical role in this transformation. We believe that yoga teachers can have a greater impact if they have access to the right tools and resources. Tummee's mission is to provide yoga teachers around the world with the right tools so that they can plan and teach effective yoga classes.

In this endeavor to help yoga teachers, we have built a sophisticated yoga platform that allows yoga teachers to plan their lessons efficiently. The platform also acts as a knowledge repository for yoga teachers by providing them access to an extensive library of yoga poses and sequences. We are continuously evolving our product to better serve the needs of yoga teachers and we would love to have you as a partner in this mission!

We are looking for a customer support person to join our team to provide customer support to our world wide customer base.
