About Learn with Leaders

At Learn with Leaders, we are inspiring teenagers every day to change the way they think and what they aspire for, and help them make more fulfilling career and life decisions.

In this journey, we have collaborated with learning centers at Harvard, Stanford, MIT, and more to bring programs, competitions, and conferences for school students.

We, now engage with students from 350+ premium schools across 80+ countries. Our program initiatives have been featured by Forbes and other international media.

Our programs and sessions have been conducted by leading faculty and mentors from global universities, such as Harvard University, Stanford University, National University of Singapore, Hong Kong University of Science and Technology etc.

We are looking to get on-board a dynamic and enthusiastic individual to fit the role of 'School Outreach and Program Sales.'

Work Culture

We promise that our work culture is unlike one that you would have experienced before – it may not necessarily be better, but it is different.

As founders, we are not sticklers for processes, we do not monitor office timings, and we are big advocates of delegation. But we like our team members to surprise us with out-of-the-box thinking, creating something interesting out of the mundane and being one up on client expectations.

We have grown fast, but we have resisted increasing our team size and we outsource a lot of our work. So, anyone we hire in the firm is quite special and we expect them to make a real difference.

We are looking for team members who do not only define themselves based on their skills and experience; we want to know what really motivates and drives you in life. So, how does Learn with Leaders fit into that journey? We want to get to know you!
