About Us

We are the world's first ed-tech initiative bringing Ivy League faculty, scholars, and students in video conferencing- led learning and mentoring format for school students globally. We are a close-knit "global connect" ecosystem enabling real-life learning in a uniquely collaborative, supportive, and mentored manner.

Through strategic partnerships with Universities' societies/clubs, Corporates' CSR departments, NGOs, social communities, and the government, we have created a vibrant community of 1200 schools across 17 countries, with over 10,000 students enrolled for over 50 programs held by Ivy League and Oxbridge faculty. Work Culture

We promise that our work culture is unlike the one that you would have experienced before – it may not necessarily be better, but it is different. As founders, we are not sticklers for processes, we do not monitor office timings, and we are big advocates of delegation. But we like our team members to surprise us with out-of-the-box thinking, creating something interesting out of the mundane and being one up on client expectations.

We have grown fast, but we have resisted increasing our team size and we outsource a lot of our work. So, anyone we hire in the firm is quite special and we expect them to make a real difference. We are looking for team members who do not only define themselves based on their skills and experience; we want to know what really motivates and drives you in life. So, how does Learn with leaders fit into that journey?
