Job Description - FarMart Future Leader Programme

About FarMart:

FarMart is a modern food supply network connecting farming communities, food businesses, and consumers. We are seamlessly integrating food value chains. We source produce scalably via our first-mile platform, optimize processing through an asset-light model, and subsequently distribute finished food digitally. By consolidating complex supply and distribution channels on a single platform, we are changing the way food is bought and sold in India and the world. Our mission is to create more resilient, reliable, and rewarding food value chains for humanity. At FarMart, we're dedicated to building the good food economy.

We're proud to be backed by renowned venture capitalists, including General Catalyst, Matrix Partners, Omidyar Network, and Avaana Capital, who invest in sustainable and purpose-driven tech companies. Our trusted partners include industry leaders like ITC, Sugna, Adani, Olam, Britannia, Glencoe, and Coffeco, among many others.

Founded by childhood friends Alekh Sanghera and Mehtab Singh Hans in 2015, FarMart set out to create a scalable tech solution that would make farming a reputable, profitable, and preferred profession for the next generation. Since our launch in 2015, we've established partnerships with over 230,000 farm aggregators and have positively impacted the lives of 3.2 million farmers and more than 2,000 food businesses worldwide.

To learn more about us, you can refer to the following media coverage:

- Moneycontrol
- Hindu Business Line
- YourStory

About the Role:

The future leader programme offers a customized development journey structured to explore your potential within the business/ functional stream. It ensures that the students are given the necessary inputs in terms of managerial development, cross-functional and cross-business exposure, and in-depth functional experience in order to develop domain expertise, equip them with the knowledge and skills required to perform their roles, as well as, lay the foundation for their growth and development as business leaders.

The programme is designed to expose you to the world of food and agri and will take you through multiple rotations throughout the journey of food value chains. Participants will get a chance to work in multiple geographies across India, build their network and understand the complexity and variety of work. The induction programme is supported by projects and stints which help them to grasp the various nuances of the business and, at the same time, contribute to the growth of the Company.

Key Responsibilities:

- Work cross-collaboratively with the logistics, sales, and procurement teams to design and implement strategies that can help the business grow
- Understand the pricing strategies, credit exposure, working capital, etc., and derive strategies to make the respective business unit profitable.
- Interact with FarMart customers (Suppliers and buyers), identify the pain points, and derive strategies that can help resolve them.

Must have skills:

- 1-2 years of experience prior to an MBA is an added advantage.
- Masters Degree in Agriculture or a relevant field will be an added advantage
- Must have good communication skills both verbal and written
- Should have good knowledge of MS Excel, Word

What we offer you:

- A flat and transparent culture with an incredibly high learning curve and a swanky informal workspace that defines our open and vibrant work culture
- Opportunity to work with incredible peers and be a part of the Tech revolution
- Most importantly, a chance to be associated with a big impact early in your career