Founder’s Office Role at Humanifi.ai

Location: Bengaluru
Job Type: Full time

Humanifi.ai is an innovative 'Human in the Loop' AI/ML data solutions provider. We deliver secure enterprise-grade training data for computer vision and natural language processing.Specializing in Clinical and Financial data for the Healthcare domain, our services include Dataset creation, Data Verification, Data Enhancement, Data Labelling, Image Tagging, Categorization, and Segmentation.

We are looking for a highly skilled and motivated individual to join our Founder's office as an Analyst. This role will be responsible for supporting the Founder across key functions including data analysis, strategic planning, and cross-functional relationship management.

Key Responsibilities:

- Manage data analysis using tools like Google Sheets, Excel, and Power BI to extract insights and identify trends to inform strategy and decision-making
- Work closely with the Founder to develop, maintain, and execute the company's vision, mission, values, and strategic plan
- Partner with department leads across the organization to ensure alignment on priorities, goals, and cross-functional dependencies
- Build and maintain strong working relationships with internal stakeholders at all levels of seniority
- Prepare presentations and reports to synthesize analysis and effectively communicate insights and recommendations

Requirements:

- 1+ years experience in a strategic analytical role, experience supporting C-level executives a plus
- Expert proficiency in Excel, Google Sheets, Power BI, and data visualization
- Strong strategic thinking skills and ability to translate analysis into actionable recommendations
- Excellent communication and relationship-building skills
- Entrepreneurial spirit, high attention to detail, and ability to manage ambiguity in a fast-paced environment
- Bachelor's degree in Business, Analytics, Economics or related field

This is a unique opportunity to play a critical role in shaping the strategy and direction of an early-stage, high-growth company. The ideal candidate will have a strong analytical background, strategic mindset, and ability to build effective working relationships across the organization.