KOAN

Economics Analyst/Associate Job Opening

About Koan Advisory

We are a New Delhi-based public policy consulting firm, with a multidisciplinary team that services the world's most innovative companies, international organisations and governments. If you are interested in the work we do on (look us up before you apply) and want to work in a collaborative learning environment, read on!

Position

We are looking for an economist with an interest in evidence-based public policy research. Candidates should be able to demonstrate keen interest in global technology markets and they should also be equally conversant with trade and investment related themes. The salary band for this role is INR 7.2 - 12 lakhs per annum, based on merit and experience.

Skills

- Research: It is imperative that candidates are capable researchers and writers, and should be able to adapt to different output formats
- Leadership Skills: Candidates are expected to steer projects themselves and therefore should be intrinsically motivated
- Analytical Skills: Candidates must be able to analyse structured and unstructured economic data
- Smart Work: Above all, candidates should be able to demonstrate creative thinking, and be used to work in a fast-paced environments

Eligibility Criteria

- Bachelor's or Master's Degree in Economics/Finance/Statistics/Mathematics
- Proficiency in at least one computational suite such as Stata, R, Python or MATLAB
- Familiarity with key Indian and international datasets

How to Apply

Please e-mail a CV, cover letter, and a writing sample to contactus@koanadvisory.com, with the subject line "Application: Eco/Feb24/<Full name>".

The writing sample should reflect an ability to research and think critically (up to two pages). Only shortlisted applicants will receive a response from us and incomplete applications will not be entertained.