FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

About MXV

Q. Where are MXV's offices?

A. Whilst we currently have three active Indian offices (Ahmedabad, Bangalore and Delhi)you aren't necessarily tied to a single location – project teams are on occasion structured across cities (and with the wonders of modern telecommunications – are quite flexible).

Q. What does MXV's internal structure look like?

A. We are a horizontal organization where you have as much control over the direction of your work as your Project Lead and the senior management.

Q. I read on the website that MXV has committed to certain SDG goals, does that mean MXV works in the sustainability domain?

A. We as an organization have committed to 5 UN SDGs (Zero Hunger; Quality Education; Gender Equality; Industry, Innovation, and Infrastructure; Responsible Consumption and Production) to set out on the path of becoming responsible as an organization.
We do take on clients and projects that help enable sustainability, but our work is not limited to that.

Q. I read on the website that MXV is a B-Corp certified company, what does that mean?

A. B-Corp certification is given to those companies that are using business as a force for good. It recognizes companies that serve clients, communities, employees, and environment while maintaining highest level of corporate governance. We are among the first 10 companies to have been certified and are proud to be recognized for our social responsibility.

Q. Does MXV work on specific types of projects?

A. Our work can be classified into 5 broad categories:

(a) Strategy - to develop company specific strategies that build industry dominance.

(b) Sales - working with sales organizations to transform and revitalise their go-to-market programs

(c) Organization - workforce strategies for the future, designing fit-for-purpose organizations, creating alignment, driving performance, and helping build the tools and competencies required to succeed

(d) Operations - to uncover opportunities for improved operational efficiency and effectiveness.

(e) Sustainability – to help organizations integrate environmentalsustainability into long term business strategy

Q. Does MXV work only with clients from certain domains?

A. We are agnostic to which industry our clients belong to as long as the work itself fits into our project focus areas. Our clients in recent times have been from retail, technology, manufacturing, financial services, education, and PE/VC to name a few.

Q. Where can I find out more about MXV Consulting?

A. For more information about who we are and what we do, you can look at our

(i) Website
(ii) LinkedIn
(iii) GlassDoor

About the candidate

Q. Does MXV hire freshers?
A. Yes, MXV hires freshers.

Q. Will my application be considered if I haven't done a post-graduation / MBA?
A. Yes, we will consider your application. Many of our past hires have been from graduates from different disciplines – economics, political science, finance etc.

Q. I don't have relevant industry experience; can I still apply?
A. Yes, you can still apply. We evaluate your application from a holistic point of view and are looking for any and all signs of impacts that you've made in your career.

About the work

Q. How long is the training period?
   A. We have a 2 week long induction period. However, quite a significantpart of the learning takes place during your first projects as well.

Q. How long before I get staffed onto a project?
   A. We try to make newly onboarded candidates a part of project teams within the first 2 weeks on average.

Q. Is there task allocation based on your role in the organization?
   A. We are proud to be an organization where there is no role-based allocation of responsibilities. We believe that all the team members work towards a common goal and that everyone shares equal ownership of the project as part of an agile team.

Q. Are people allowed to pick their projects?
   A. Project allocation depends on various conditions and availability. However, your preferences are heard and acknowledged. MXV tries its best to give you the work you'd love to do.

Q. What are the typical work hours?
   A. Work hours are generally structured from 9 AM – 6 PM on weekdays with a few hours sprinkled in on weekends depending on the project you've been assigned to.

Q. How many holidays do I get?
   A. The number of holidays may vary with the role. Typically, you get 24 holidays in addition to gazetted holidays. However, if you earn your leaves with your work, you can take as many as you want! Even more than your quota!

Q. If I join as an Analyst, will I get to meet with clients?
   A. Yes! All our analysts have had client exposure since their first projects. We believe such early client interaction is a great learning experience that is hardly provided to young professionals.

Q. Does the job require travel?
   A. As for every Consulting job, yes! Like it or not, you will be traveling to client offices, site visits (and even our internal retreats) as and when required.

About the process

Q. How many rounds of interviews will I go through?

A. On average, a candidate goes through 2-3 rounds of interviews.

Q. How many rounds will involve a case study?

A. Almost all rounds currently involve a case study or guesstimate exercise.

Q. What are the typical kinds of cases asked?

A. Nothing out of the ordinary. Any kind of case that you find in our interviews is usually covered in almost all casebooks such as – pricing, market sizing, go-to-market strategies, etc. We do not expect you to know the projects we have done. We only wish to see your thought process and your unique perspective on how you would have tackled the problems that we did in the past.

Q. What else can I do to ace my interviews?

A. Our interview processes are quite standard. But you are sure to get some brownie points if you

(i) Dress formally
(ii) Know your CV and can expand on it well
(iii) Research our organization beforehand
(iv) Ask good and relevant questions

Q. Can I reach out to current MXV employees or alums to talk about their experience at MXV?

A. Yes, of course. Any of our current champions and alums will be happy to speak with you if any of your doubts were not cleared here. You can search for them on LinkedIn.
