About Plum

Plum is an employee insurance and health benefits platform focused on making health insurance simple, accessible and inclusive for modern organizations. Backed by leading global investors including Tiger Global, and Sequoia Capital, we help companies care better for their employees by providing.

We are on a mission to insure 10mn lives by 2025.

Why join us?

In the past year, our team has undergone significant expansion, doubling in size and achieving a remarkable tenfold increase in numbers. Joining us means stepping into an environment where you can engage with CXOs who are shaping the next Google or Facebook, becoming their trusted advisor.

About the role:

Your primary role as a sales associate is to engage with corporates and startups, promoting Plum's innovative solutions - you will be joining a dynamic team focused on high-velocity sales. This is a quota carrying role (re: you will have sales targets)

Your mission is clear: convert qualified leads into valued clients, maximising revenue potential. Under the guidance of industry & sales experts, you'll acquire all the skills needed to excel in the competitive world of insurtech sales.

Your charter would include:

- Building & managing a pipeline of prospective clients through internal & external sources
- Presenting Plum's products to clients in pitch meetings
- Navigating a complex sales cycle for a technical product
- Maintaining high levels of engagement with the client throughout the sales cycle
- Proactively source new leads and new business opportunities, with the support of the sales development & marketing functions and client referrals
- Owning the end-to-end sales cycle for assigned clients

The ideal candidate:

- Has stellar written & verbal communication skills
- Is highly professional and results-driven

- Has a high degree of coachability, learning mindset and great listening skills
- Can present themselves as highly credible and articulate face-to-face, over the phone, and via email to clients
- Plum believes in playing fast & long, and everyone in our team is highly entrepreneurial + high on energy. We offer extreme autonomy and growth to all our team members. If that appeals to you, you will fit right in!

Salary Details:

Fixed Income	Variable Income (Performance-based)	On Target Earnings
Rs. 6,00,000LPA	Rs. 2,00,000LPA	Rs. 8,00,000LPA

What makes this exciting?

There is no cap on the performance incentive. Once a sales member achieves 100% of their target, an accelerator will apply to the performance incentive. However, if they achieve less than 60% of their target, a decelerator shall apply to their performance incentive.

As such, a sales team member can earn significantly higher sums of performance incentive based on target attainment.

Still don't believe us? Here's feedback we got from our last batch of new joinees:

"The culture at Plum is truly amazing! I'm surrounded by super helpful people - right from my peers, to my manager, to the VP of my department - everyone helps everyone out." - Atharve Gujar

"Plum offers a lot of flexibility with respect to work - this isn't your traditional 9 to 5 job. As long as work gets done, no one bothers you. I was hesitant about how to adapt to corporate culture, but I thankfully haven't experienced that!" - Palak Singh
