CENTRE FOR THINKING, LANGUAGE AND COMMUNICATION

Job Description: Assistant Digital Editor

The Centre for Thinking, Language and Communication (CTLC), housed at Plaksha University, endeavors to instill an appreciation for critical inquiry and a flair for communication skills in a technology institute and aims, thereby, to make fresh advances in the broader academic and professional technology communities. The CTLC offers opportunities and products that enhance the power of thinking, language, and communication in the students, staff, and faculty of Plaksha University to foster a communication style that equips them to broaden their vision of the world.

As an Assistant Digital Editor, your primary responsibilities will include looking after the Centre's audio-visual requirements, production of digital content, and managing the CTLC Studio. Your work at the Centre and its Studio will be vital in the production of a wide variety of YouTube and Instagram content, Podcast, and other immersive teaching content, while also being responsible for its reach far and wide on social media platforms.

Responsibilities:

Design and Content Creation

- Responsible for the ideation and visualisation of creatives, illustrations, layouts, and anything that is needed for the Centre to communicate its message effectively
- Work with the team to understand creative requirements across mediums and platforms including social media, websites, webpages, print creatives, newsletters, and brochures

Videography & Editing

- Handling camera and other equipment and managing the data produced in the CTLC Studio
- Working closely with the team to ideate for monthly content and photo/video shoots.
- Support the functioning of CTLC social media channels through the creation of video properties and editing the raw footage for Instagram and YouTube
- Editing various learning media, from short lectures to Podcast content, talk shows

Other responsibilities may emerge from time to time given the individual's interests, capabilities, or requirements of the Centre.

Desired Skills and Experience:

- Educational background or experience in the fields of film and media
- Demonstrated expertise in digital content creation and video editing from pre- to post-production
- Knowledge of current trends in editing and post-production processes
- Familiarity with Adobe Premiere Pro

- Understanding of social media audience engagement

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Recruitment Process:
If you are interested in this position, please write to ctlc@plaksha.edu.in with a brief note (300 words) on why you believe this position is meant for you, and your updated CV (must include contact details).